Our Chronicle Office over W. H. Bryarly's Store.

ALL persons indebted to the Chronicle office, for subscription, job-work or advertising, up to the first of October, are hereby notified, that they must come forward and settle up, as the office has changed hands, and it is necessary for all of the old business to be settled immediately.

We spoke last week, of the steady progress of Clarksville in the march of improvement, and this leads us to advert to the prosperity of the neighboring town of New Providence. Its progress has been quite rapid, though silent, and it is doing a much larger business than is generally suspected. Its stores, groceries and workshops are well patronized, and its location—North of Red River—gives it the control of a large Forwarding and Commission business. In addition to Linwood and Trice's Landing—both well established and commodious Warehouses, Mr. John K. Smith is just completing a large fire-proof Warehouse, at the mouth of Red River. The building is two stories, and so arranged that produce can be delivered into either story from the wagons, by an upper and a lower road. It is approached, from the lower Bridge, by a new turnpike well constructed and of easy grade, and the wharf, now nearly finished, is a superior one. The building is 250 feet by 50. Contiguous to this, is a steam barrel factory, the property of Ogden & Co., which is doing a large business, and proving to be a great acquisition to the Mills, which are numerous in the vicinity. But a few steps from the bridge, Mr. James Cummings is erecting a steam Distillery, calculated to do a large business. The location is a perfect one, and the establishment promises to be profitable. It will be in operation in about five weeks. There are also two large tobacco Stemmeries in Providence, both of which we learn, will be in full operation so soon as the season opens.

We must not be understood as saying that all these establishments are actually within the corporate limits of Providence, but they are so nearly so as to justify the mention of them as a part of the town, and of its business.

We learn from the Columbia Mirror, of the 29th ult., that our townsman, Mr. J. M. Glascock, received the premium for the best set of Buggy Harness exhibited at the Fair recently held in that place. We are pleased to record this fact, as we have stated in another column, that "our city can boast of the best class of mechanics in the West." It is proper to state that the Fair at Columbia was largely represented with manufactured articles of every description.

THE Circuit Court of Cheatham County, was organized by the Hon. W. W. Pepper, on the 3d Monday in October, by authority of an act of the present Legislature. It is doubtful whether Cheatham will continue to be a county, for any great length of time, as the counties of Montgomery and Davidson have filed bills in the Chancery Court, for the purpose of recovering the portions of territory taken from them in the formation of the new county.

LAST Monday was County court day, but no business of any great importance was transacted. The auctioneer's voice did not ring as loudly as it did before the "Panic," and property did not sell so readily.

We are glad to see that our friends are making some efforts in our behalf; and if they will continue to persevere, we have no doubt, but that a large list can be procured for the Chronicle. Let every American—and unprejudiced democrat—who does not take the Chronicle, come forward immediately and enter their names upon our list, for we are determined to give them a paper worthy of their patronage.

THERE has been a great "run" made on the Pigeon Roost, by the boys about town, for a week past. The roost is about 18 or 20 miles from town, in Kentucky, near the Hopkinsville road, where the pigeons congregate by thousands. Four gentlemen left here, after dinner one day last week, and killed 1500, (so they say) and got back to dinner the next day. That was pretty good.

We have struck from our list this week, a good many delinquent subscribers, who have not paid for their paper for a number of years. We dislike to do such things, but we cannot afford to publish a paper on the five year system; however, we are in hopes they will consider the matter, and come and pay up "old scores," and commence anew. If any should fail to receive their paper this week, they may know the cause, though we have mailed to all names that we found on our packet book up to this time.

THE "Montgomery Guards" have re-organized, and were out on drill last Monday night. There will be a drill again on next Saturday evening. All the members are requested to turn out in full uniform.

THE addition to the building of the Clarksville Female Academy, is now under a rapid course of construction. The trustees have a subscription sufficient to complete the building, now going up, which consists of two large rooms, on either side of the present building. They are also going to run the old house up one story higher, and build a large portico in front, which will add greatly to the appearance of the house. We understand that it is the intention of the trustees to employ an able corps of teachers, as soon as the house shall have been completed, and try to build up a School of the first order. A good female School has long been needed here. We are able to support a School that would be an honor to the place, having, as we do, advantages not unequal to any place in this portion of country.

MR. B. R. Peart, has completed one of the neatest, and most substantial stone bridges across the slough, near the upper bend of the river we have seen. It will stand as a monument to his skill as a finished workman. Our city can now boast of a class of mechanics inferior to none in the West.

MOST of our citizens enjoyed an intellectual feast in the series of sermons upon the Prophecies by Rev. S. D. Baldwin, commencing last Sabbath morning and closing on Tuesday night, at the M. E. Church. Mr. Baldwin may properly be ranked with the master spirits of the age—a great intellect. We leave a description of these discourses to a more able pen. We hope some competent to the task will furnish it for publication.

SINCE penning the above, we learn that Mr. Baldwin has a work in press, embracing all his views upon this subject, which will be ready for delivery about the first of January next. All who desire a copy should subscribe for it now—it will be furnished for $1.50 per copy, to subscribers—others will have to pay a higher rate.

OUR faithful and efficient Representative, M. D. Davis, Esq., arrived in town, last evening, on a visit to his family. He looks a little worse in health, as might be expected from the loofoco atmosphere he has been breathing in the Capitol.

F. S. BEAUMONT & Co., having bought out Messrs. Northington & Vaughan, will continue the Hardware business at their old stand. Messrs. B. & Co. are in receipt of many articles in their line, and are awaiting the arrival of a large and well selected stock of everything pertaining to their business. We don't know the Co. part of the concern, but we welcome Frank back in the midst of those who raised him, and we wish him and the Co. much success.

MR. J. W. Dolbear has just closed his course of instructions in Penmanship in our city. To show in what estimation his instruction is held, we subjoin what Mr. W. P. Hume, Cashier of Planters' Bank at this place, says in relation to it:

"I would not take ten times the amount I paid him, ($30) and have my children be without the instructions he has given them."

THE "Philo Crinoline Society" have just invented a "pocket barometer" to warn lady navigators, of whirlwinds and storms, and give them time to leave into port. Every lady needs one.

THE Irish had another fight on the Square last Saturday night—a thing not uncommon however.

FRANKLIN Street, from Bob House's Grocery to the Wild Cat Bank, is beautifully interspersed with mud-puddles, etc. It is a shame that the principal thoroughfare in our city should be so sadly neglected. We pray our city Fathers to bestow some attention to this particular portion of our city.

OUR DEVIL ON HOOPS.—Our devil came up into the office the other day, grumbling because he had got swept off the sidewalk by a mammoth set of hoops. We undertook to lecture him, but he remonstrated by saying, that "it was impossible to get around a woman in these days, for he was swept off before he got half way 'round.'"

"EUGERSIA" Church, situated in the southern part of Christian county, Ky., was destroyed by fire on last Saturday morning. The members of the church—Reformers—were holding a protracted meeting, and it is supposed caught from the fire left in the church that night.

AMONG the many improvements going on in town, we notice the large tobacco factory of Mr. Lewis G. Williams on Commerce street.

OUR city is sadly in need of that institution known as a Calaboose. Judging from what we now and then see and hear upon our streets, at night, we think there are some about here whose morals would be improved by such an establishment.

WE are informed by a gentleman in town, that several crops of tobacco have been purchased here, at $7 per hundred. Not knowing the particulars, we give the statement as it was made to us, and leave conclusions to those interested in the trade.

HAVING noticed most of our business houses, we now beg leave to speak of that clever firm, Bryarly & McCauley, dealers in Drugs, Medicines, &c., on Franklin St. They are now receiving a fresh supply of Drugs, medicines, brands (for medical purposes), Perfumery, fancy notions &c. They have a very large and extensive establishment, and are Druggists of great experience, and clever gentlemen.—We bespeak for them a share of public patronage.

ON Tuesday night last, there was a man by the name of Waller, shot by one Jane Brumbeugh, a notorious character, who lives near the Plaining Mill of W. S. McReynolds & Co. The case created a great deal of excitement, and the trial lasted two days. The prosecution was conducted by Messrs. Harrel and Bailey, and the defence by Messrs. Hornberger, House, Smith and King. We refrain from giving a report of the testimony, as the case has to be tried at the next Criminal Court. The defendant was bound over to Criminal Court in a bond of $25.00. Waller, we understand, is improving a little and may possibly get well.

THE gifted, but lamented Byron said, "few—none ever find the thing they love." If Byron had lived to see the tobacco chews of the present day, he would have taken that back. They seek it early and find it—their devotion to it surpasses almost everything else. You may see many a beardless stripling chewing as for life; and does any one suppose that he has not found the thing he loves? Men have various objects of life, but the most recent invention is chewing a filthy weed called tobacco.

A very heavy rain fell here last night, accompanied with thunder and lightning. River very muddy; weather as mild as May, and the forests still clad in a heavy suit of variegated foliage.

TO PRINTERS.—We have a good second hand double motion Printing Press for sale, upon reasonable terms.

CONUNDRUM.—Why is a man who marries a modern Belle, like a poet?

Answer. Because he gives to "airy nothing, a local habitation and a name."

CANDIDATES.

FOR SHERIFF.
We are authorized to announce THOMAS RAMEY, a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Montgomery County.

MARRIED.

On Monday evening, the 2nd inst., at Trinity Church, by the Rev. J. L. Ridley, D. D., Miss ELLEN, second daughter of the late Dr. George McDaniel, of this city, to Mr. W. H. GELLEY, formerly of Liverpool, England.

The interesting ceremony of this marriage was witnessed by a large concourse of friends, and, after the marriage, a number of invited guests assembled at the residence of the bride's mother, and spent the evening in elegant social enjoyment.

Our sincere benedictions go with the happy couple to their new home.

—In this city, yesterday evening, at the Washington Hotel, by the Rev. J. B. West, Mr. W. B. TYLER, of Hadenville, Ky., to Miss ANDELIA Taylor, daughter of Wiley Taylor, of Todd County, Ky.

DIED.

On the 20th inst., in New Providence, Tenn., FRANK, son of W. P. and Susanah Barber.

THE COMBINATION PATENT PORTABLE STEAM SAW-MILL.

This Mill is fast coming into use in every section of this country, Canada, Cuba, and South America. It has received the endorsement of several thousand experienced lumber manufacturers, and is pronounced by all who have examined its operation, to be the most simple, efficient, and practical machine for the purpose ever produced. Of the large number of these mills now in operation, we defy any person to point to a single one of them that has failed to give perfect satisfaction.

Description of the First, or Smallest size.

As will be seen from the engraving, the lower part of the mill is composed of a simple frame, the timbers of which are about eight inches square, either of oak or other hard wood, securely fastened together with strong iron bolts. This framework is 7 feet long, 7 feet deep below the bed pieces, and 5 feet wide. The main shaft is 3 1/2 inches in diameter, and the driving pulley 22 inches in diameter, and 9 inch face. The pulley wheel is of solid iron, and is three feet in diameter. The pulley is of iron, four feet long and is connected with the saw by an oscillating cross head. This arrangement of the slides and cross head, which has lately been patented, is the only plan we have ever seen by which the saw could be made to play up and down, with the desired rapidity, without grating and heating. It secures a uniform bearing on all parts, without regard to the position of the saw, and when the saw is once fastened at the bottom it is never to be altered to suit a new alteration in the rake, and even though it should not hang plumb, the guide pieces will adjust themselves. This is a very important object gained, for under all the old arrangements, any inaccuracy in the hanging of the saw causes great friction and consequent destruction of machinery. The carriage runs upon small friction wheels, four inches in diameter. These it moves with less shake, less noise, and less friction, and consequently requiring less power than in the old way.

The saw used is of cast steel, 12 inches wide, and 7 feet long, sufficient for all logs under 3 1/2 feet in diameter.

The new arrangement at the upper end of the saw consists of a slide made to be lowered or raised to suit the size of the log. The saw is guided by means of the lower end of two wooden guides, and the upper end of the saw is fastened to two metallic blocks, which play up and down in the grooves, as seen in the engraving. The whole arrangement about the saw, both at the top and the bottom, is so perfect, that the saw glides up and down, with its wonderful speed almost as quietly and easily as though it were running only in oil. It has been the study of mechanics for years to produce something that would do away with the necessity of straining a saw in an upright mill, and, we believe, that object has never been fully attained until the discovery of the present plan.

The locomotive boiler is ten feet long, containing 44 tubes, 2 1/2 inches in diameter and 6 feet long. The shell is 34 inches in diameter; the firebox, 36 inches long and 28 inches wide; smoke pipe, 18 inches in diameter and about 30 feet long. This boiler may be rated as about 15 horse power. The cylinder boiler is 36 inches in diameter, 20 feet long, with 2 flues 12 inches in diameter, and possesses a generating capacity of 18 horse power.

PORTABILITY AND FREIGHTAGE.
The mill and power as described above, all complete, with the exception of the bed pieces and woodwork of the carriage, with the locomotive boiler, weighs about 45 tons, with cylinder boiler about 6 tons—as follows:
Cylinder boiler, with its connections, 4,500 lbs. Locomotive boiler, with its connections, 3,500 lbs. Engine, with its connections, 2,800 lbs. Mill, with its connections, 4,700 lbs. This machinery is regarded as good freight, and may be forwarded without trouble, either upon car, steamboat, or any other method, to any section of the country.

HOW MUCH IT WILL DO.

The speed of this mill is about three hundred strokes of the saw per minute, and the feed from 1 to 4 of an inch for every stroke, depending upon the character of the timber. Thus, at a medium speed, the saw would cut through a log twelve feet long in from one to two minutes. From this data any practical man, knowing the character and size of the logs, their convenience to the carriage, etc., can make a very correct estimate what the mill will accomplish in any given time.

From the various statements of different parties using these mills, we calculate that from 3,000 to 3,500 logs about an average twelve hours' work in ordinary log cutting can be accomplished.

Two men are sufficient to attend this mill, when the logs are convenient to the carriage. This power requires about two barrels of water per hour; any small spring or well affords a sufficient quantity.

PRICE.
We furnish these mills and powers, as described above, including all the screws, bolts, belting, grate-bars, saw, supply-pump, wrenches, crowbars, and everything necessary for running, excepting the two long bed pieces and the woodwork of the carriage, the whole put up and boxed, and delivered in St. Louis, for $1,750.

Two segments and sections wheels furnished for the carriage are sufficient to saw logs 34 feet long. An extra length will be sent when desired, and an extra charge made of two dollars per foot. Drawings and full explanations are sent with each mill, and also a perfect model of the mill, and put up and run it without trouble. The right to use is always included in the sale of every mill.

SECOND SIZE.

This mill is constructed on the same plan as the other, and is about one-third larger and heavier. It requires more power to drive it to its full speed, and will saw a much larger amount in any given time. The saw is eight feet in length, sufficient for the largest and heaviest timber in any section. The engine is a 3 inch cylinder, and 24-inch stroke. The locomotive boiler furnished with it is 12 inches long—diameter of the shell, 38 inches; furnace, 36 inches long and 37 inches wide—34 tubes, 3 inches in diameter and 8 feet long—and all the other parts in proportion.

The cylinder boiler furnished with the above engine is 42 inches in diameter and 20 feet long, with two flues, furnace front, smoke-pipe, and all the other parts in proportion. The generating capacity of either of the above boilers is about 20 horse power. This power is furnished with the mill, and every part complete, ready for running, for $2,250, in St. Louis.
